

WORKING FOR YOU

FOR MORE INFORMATION Contact:

Falyne Smith
Eric Mower and Associates
585-389-1839
fsmith@mower.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

June 11, 2007

KI INTRODUCES NEW TABLES FEATURING DISTINCTIVE, SIMPLE DESIGNS FOR CORPORATE AND HIGHER EDUCATION SETTINGS

CHICAGO – KI introduces Inquire™ and Athens™ tables, featuring distinctive, simple designs that facilitate communication in any area. KI's new Inquire tables are an ideal solution for meetings, training and other collaborations. KI's new Athens tables create flexible meeting areas in higher education settings and also can be utilized in corporate environments as a casual work space. Inquire and Athens tables are on display at KI's showroom, Ste. 1181, at the 2007 NeoCon® World's Trade Fair.

“Our customers asked for tables that are easy to use, easy to specify and easy to order. Inquire tables meet this demand at a very attractive price point,” said Lisa Zeller, contract tables product manager, KI. “Athens tables help to create sophisticated and relaxed work spaces for students or employees. The tables can be easily joined together for collaborative needs.”

Available in a variety of shapes and sizes, Inquire tables can be purchased with casters or glides for quick rearranging to adapt to users' changing needs.

The sleek fluted form legs of Inquire tables meld seamlessly into the table's underside, offering a clean, contemporary look. The table is available in two leg options, straight or canted. When fitted with straight legs, the Inquire table has a distinctive look and provides simple functionality. The canted leg option provides an extra three inches of added knee clearance for users, as well as extra design intrigue.

Inquire table's wavetop contours make it an ideal solution for a desk or single person workstation. The wavetop shape also offers better viewing angles when the tables are grouped. Round and square shapes provide additional work surfaces and create a highly functional office or meeting room.

The table's flexible modesty panel offers users privacy, while discreetly hiding wires. Like the Inquire tables, KI's new Athens tables offer simple, contemporary designs perfect for lounges, flexible areas, cafes, or anywhere people get together.

Designed to complement any décor, Athens tables are available in a variety of sizes, and finishes. Three base designs are offered in two heights, each in laminate or veneer tops.

Extra durable, Athens tables' laminate tabletops withstand years of use and are easy to maintain. Bases are constructed of steel or a combination of steel and aluminum, for superior wear versus cast-iron bases. Athens tables are backed by KI's 10-year warranty.

KI manufactures innovative furniture and wall system solutions for education, healthcare, government and corporate markets. The employee-owned company is headquartered in Green Bay, Wis. and operates sales offices and manufacturing facilities in the United States, Canada, Europe and Asia. KI tailors products and service solutions to the specific needs of each customer through its unique "Market of One" customer service and manufacturing philosophy. For more information, visit www.ki.com.

###